

HAVE YOURSELF A MERRY LITTLE CHRISTMAS...

DEC 25 • CARSON, CA

Where did 2017 go? Out of the 365 days, we had our fair share of happy days, a handful of long days at work, only a couple of sad days, and luckily quite a few days of random adventures! Each season brought us a little something different:

This spring, we had to say good-bye to Ray (Shelby's grandpa) who has carved his many stories, sawdust aroma and love for board games into our hearts.

Summer brought a new life into our home: Eddie. He is our first real pet together (because can you really count the 17 goldfish?). He's been a learning experience, our morning alarm clock, an excuse to exercise and a delight in our lives!

CHRISTMAS CONTINUED ON PAGE 4

DOG BREAKS INTO HOUSE. STEALS OWNERS' HEARTS.

JUL 4 • CARSON, CA

Twas the night of the 4th of July and all were out celebrating, except for one frightened little pup. As two unsuspecting homeowners drove into their garage that night, he stealthily stowed away inside to take refuge. The next morning, homeowners, Shelby and Kristina, were

DOG THIEF CONTINUED ON PAGE 3

WILD POKEMON SIGHTING!

OCT 28 • LOS ANGELES, CA

Two wild grass type Pokemon were sighted at Stan Lee's Comic Con in downtown L.A. early Saturday morning. Bulbausar was easily recognized by the crowd, but the more rare find was a wild

POKEMON CONTINUED ON PAGE 3

CUTE as a BUTTON

UNIQUELY HAND-CRAFTED CARDS & GIFTS

Need something? Email kmchung.design@gmail.com.

TWO KIDS IN THE BIG APPLE

SEP 2-9 • MANHATTAN, NY

This year we celebrated our 3rd anniversary with a trip to New York. After 8 days: we explored a new city, walked 69.7 miles, visited 4 museums, ate countless delicious calories and got much better at the subway system!

BEST OF NEW YORK

MUSEUM
The Metropolitan Museum of Art

LANDMARK
Belvedere Castle at Central Park

FOOD
Grilled octopus at Nino's 46

DESSERT
Cream puffs from Bibble & Sip

SHOW
Sleep No More at McKittrick Hotel

VIEW
Top of the Rock 70th floor

DOG THIEF CONTINUED

surprised to discover a small creature sleeping inside. At first glance they thought it might be Trash Opossum, the infamous kingpin of garbage in the complex, but with a sigh of relief it was in fact a white Chihuahua with brown ears and a wagging tail. After two weeks of hunting for the pup's owners, no one came to claim him so the family of two became a trio.

The 9-year old Chihuahua, Eddie, now lives inside the house (instead of the garage) with owners Kristina and Shelby, and is still slightly skiddish of fireworks. "Eddie is an absolute joy! He puts a smile on our face everyday. He's won us over with his cuddly personality, cute floppy ears and lack of barking. We're so glad he picked our garage!" says Kristina.

ADOPT & MAKE A FRIEND FOR LIFE
AT CARSON ANIMAL RESCUE

POKEMON CONTINUED

decidueye from the Alola region. An action figure salesman commented about the sighting, "This year we saw quite a few Deadpools, Harley Quinns, Teen Titans and Spider-men, but I was excited to see a handful of wild Pokemon make an appearance at Comic Con!"

The wild bulbasaur and decidueye were last seen getting boba near the LA Convention Center. If you have any more information regarding the whereabouts of these elusive grass Pokemon please contact gottacatchemall@gmail.com.

ONE MAN'S TRASH IS ANOTHER OPOSSUM'S TREASURE

Trash Opossum, the infamous kingpin of garbage, has been spotted with a new associate, Allie Cat, sometime this week. Trash Opossum has been running under dumpster poker games with the local vermin for years.

AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

CHRISTMAS CONTINUED

Fall gave us new adventures with our travels to New York.

And as Ned Stark promised, winter has come! Looking back at 2017, it's been a good year with new routines, same jobs, different challenges but still lots of good times.

Wishing everyone a joyful closure to their 2017 and a fantastic start to the new year!

Love,
Shelby, Kristina & Eddie

6				2				9
	1		3		7		5
		3				1
	9						2
2			8	7	5			3
		5		1		4
	7			8			9
		1		4		8
			2	5	9			